

Report of Lego meeting

Notes

- Each Sub Game needs one clear objective:
Freeway Frenzy – Pepper must bash Bad Guys car into submission
- Pad Rumbles at the start of the intro, where Pepper is sat on the bike readying to go downhill
- Andy Lee needs to create an index for the script.
- Freeway Frenzy – Has a count down clock
- For each sub game, the Bad Guy taunts the player, with one liners and laughs. Pepper never makes any comments.
- Licence Names:-
Road Licence
Water Licence
Air Licence
Each of these gives Pepper the ability to control the different types of vehicle on the island.
- Full Script walk through.

Blue Room

Each of the Sub Games blue rooms consist of the same elements.

- 1) Pepper enters the building of the subgame.
- 2) Screen fades to blue room.
- 3) Pepper is positioned in the vehicle form the game, Block Buster is stood to one side.
- 4) Projected on the Blue Screen are sketches (nice Dave Ambulance pencil art) of sub game mock-ups.
- 5) Block Buster give Pepper a quick and punchy instruction of what to do in the game. With the subtitles appearing on a black border at the base of the screen.
- 6) The Blue Screen now projects an image of the controls and what they do.
- 7) The player can input these controls and Pepper will react accordingly.
- 8) After the Block Buster instructions are finished, the subtitles are replace with a Flashing 'Press Start to Begin' label.
- 9) The player can continue practising the controls for as long as necessary, before entering the game.
- 10) After start is pressed, The screen will fade.
- 11) Fade in clapper board screen, with the words "Loading".

Exit Sub Game to Blue Screen

- 1) Set-up same as before.
- 2) Block Buster congratulates Pepper.
- 3) Quick rushes of game are shown on the blue screen as a reflection of the original sketch idea.
- 4) Block Buster awards Pepper with the appropriate award (L.A.F.T.A). (For Freeway Frenzy, Block Buster will explain what one is).
- 5) Block Buster's subtitles are replaced with the text 'Press Start to Exit'.
- 6) Fade to Lego Island.
